Event Report

3rd National Current Good Manufacturing Practices (cGMP) Day

Organized by the Department of Pharmacy, PIET, Samalkha

Date: 10th October 2025

The Department of Pharmacy at Panipat Institute of Engineering and Technology (PIET), Samalkha, proudly celebrated the 3rd National Current Good Manufacturing Practices (cGMP) Day on 10th October 2025, marking a significant step in educating budding pharmacists about the critical standards that ensure the quality and safety of pharmaceutical products.

The event witnessed enthusiastic participation from students and faculty members. The highlight of the day was a series of expert lectures delivered by Mr. Kapil Kumar and Mr. Tarun Kapoor, who provided in-depth insights into the fundamentals and applications of Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP) in the pharmaceutical industry. In their addresses, both speakers elaborated on the importance of cGMP Day, explaining that it is celebrated to raise awareness among pharmacy professionals and students about the stringent quality control measures and standardized procedures required during the production of medicines.

Key Objectives Highlighted During the Event:

- To educate students on the importance of following proper manufacturing protocols.
- To promote awareness about quality assurance in pharmaceutical production.
- To understand the role of cGMP in safeguarding public health.
- To foster a culture of compliance and continuous improvement among future industry professionals.

The session was interactive and well-received, with students gaining clarity on real-world practices and the responsibilities that come with being a pharmacy professional. The knowledge shared by the speakers served to bridge the gap between academic learning and industrial application.

The event was successfully coordinated under the leadership of Dr. Gaurav Agarwal, Chief Convener, who played a pivotal role in organizing the celebration and ensuring its smooth execution. Dr. Agarwal, in his remarks, appreciated the speakers for their valuable contributions and encouraged students to adhere to ethical and quality standards in all their future professional endeavors.

Overall, the celebration of the 3rd National cGMP Day at PIET served as a motivating and enlightening platform for students to understand the critical role of manufacturing practices in the pharmaceutical domain.
